PREPARED FOR

NAPTOSA

National Professional Teachers' Organisation of South Africa
Attn: Wongeka Salami, Financial Manager,
and Mr Basil Manuel

This proposal answers Wongeka Salami's email of 9 October 2026. NAPTOSA plans to implement the workshop module from its next financial year and is preparing budgets now, so this proposal gives one clear price per province, paid by NAPTOSA National. If NAPTOSA accepts by 28 November 2026, this price holds for go-lives in its next financial year.

The price per province

#	WHAT THE PROVINCE GETS	EXCL. VAT	VAT (15%)	INCL. VAT
1	The workshop module as built today (page 3)	R 8,999.00	R 1,349.85	R 10,348.85
2	The five added items (page 6)	R 3,500.00	R 525.00	R 4,025.00
	Per province, once-off	R 12,499.00	R 1,874.85	R 14,373.85

Line 1 also covers setting up the province on the system: staff logins that show the province its own workshops and bookings, and its own bank account on the EFT payment instructions. Training is billed separately (page 8).

R 30,000.00
what this work would normally cost per province, billed by the hour (page 7)

R 12,499.00
what we are charging per province, excl. VAT, once-off

R 17,501.00
less per province than our hourly rate would come to

The Western Cape is left out of this pricing. It already runs the workshop module and has paid for it (invoice INV-NAPTOSA-WS-2026-01). The price in this proposal is per province NAPTOSA includes.

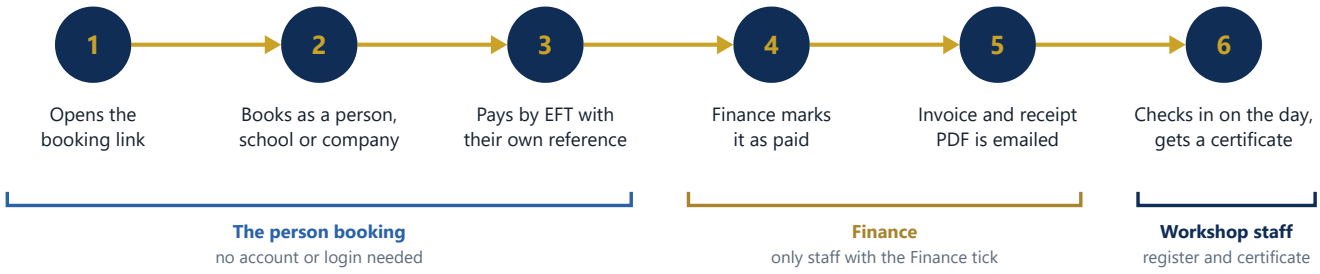

Who pays. NAPTOSA National pays for the provinces it chooses. Every price is per province, so NAPTOSA can multiply it by the number of provinces it budgets for. NAPTOSA National signs one acceptance on the last page (page 10), ticking the provinces it is paying for. This proposal replaces Option 1 (Regional access) of LBTEC-NAPTOSA-WS-OPT-001, dated 29 September 2026.

1. What the workshop module does today

LBTec built the workshop module for NAPTOSA Western Cape, and it is in use on naptosawc.co.za. This is line 1 of the price, at R 8,999.00 excl. VAT per province, and every province NAPTOSA National pays for gets all of the following.

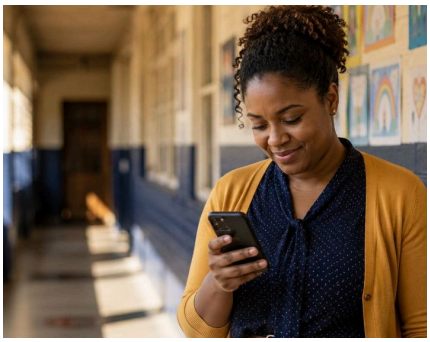

INCLUDED	WHAT IT MEANS	STATUS
"the creation of the workshop"	Office staff create a workshop on one form (title, dates, in person, online or hybrid, venue, member and non-member price, places and a picture), preview it, publish it and get a booking link to share.	In use
"the bookings and payments captured"	Teachers, schools and companies book through the link, with no account needed. Every booking and payment is recorded against the person, and the office sees who has paid and who still owes.	In use
"the EFTs"	Anyone paying by EFT gets the bank details and their own payment reference on screen and by email. The same reference shows on the staff screen, so Finance can match the bank statement.	In use
"the EFT enablement for the finance department"	A Finance tick on a staff account lets that person mark an EFT as paid, which emails the invoice and receipt at once. Staff without the tick cannot mark anything paid.	In use
"sheets and reports going out"	Excel sheets for one workshop or many: bookings, payments, school places and an attendance register. Emails go out by themselves: the invoice and receipt once a person has paid, and a reminder to paid attendees the day before the workshop. Being built: a summary report emailed to staff the morning after a workshop ends.	In use

Card payments are not live yet, so payments today are made by EFT.

For the people who book

- A booking link for every workshop, with no account or login needed, also as a QR code for posters and emails
- Bookings for individuals, schools and companies
- Member and non-member prices, and coupon codes for discounts or free places
- EFT payment, with the bank details and their own payment reference on screen and by email
- One combined invoice and receipt PDF by email once the payment is recorded
- Non-members can give an SA ID number when booking, checked for 13 digits
- Paid attendees get a "starting soon" email the day before the workshop

Schools. A school pays once for several places. Once Finance confirms the payment, the school gets a code and a "Register a teacher" link, and each teacher registers on a paid place. Staff see, for example, "Places used 2 of 3", with the teachers listed under the school. Members who sign in to the member portal see their workshops in a Workshops tab and download their own receipts and certificates.

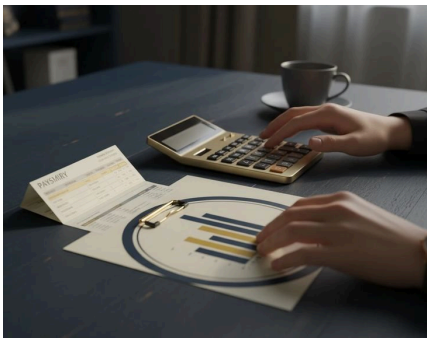

For workshop staff

- Create a workshop on one form: title, dates, in person, online or hybrid, venue, member and non-member price, places, CPTD points and a picture
- Preview it, publish it, then copy the booking link or download its QR code
- Create coupon codes with a limit on places, and switch them off and on
- Download Excel for one workshop or many: bookings, payments, school places with the teachers who used them, and an attendance register
- A creator without the Finance tick gets the same Excel with every money column removed
- Delete a practice or unpaid workshop, giving a reason. Once anyone has paid, the workshop is closed instead and every record is kept

Who can do what. A super admin gives each staff member the Workshop creator tick, the Finance tick, or both, and that person's screens change to match. Creators create, publish and report without the money columns. Only staff with the Finance tick can mark an EFT as paid.

For Finance

- A super admin gives a staff member the Finance tick, and their screens change to match
- Finance marks an EFT as paid, and the invoice and receipt is emailed to the payer at once
- Staff without the Finance tick cannot mark anything paid
- Each booking shows its EFT reference, so it can be matched to the bank statement
- Each booking shows whether it is paid or still owed
- Download, preview or re-send a receipt from the booking
- Excel downloads with all the money columns

In the Western Cape today, the super admins act as Finance.

On the day and after the day

- Each workshop has a check-in QR code for the door. Staff can open check-in early and close it again
- Self check-in: attendees find themselves by name, email, ID, PERSAL or NAP number, confirm who they are and tap "I'm present", and the staff register updates by itself
- Staff mark people present or absent one at a time, or many at once within one workshop. Only paid bookings can be marked present
- Staff issue a numbered certificate with "Issue now" to anyone paid and marked present, and it is emailed to them
- People marked present get a thank-you email; people marked absent get a "We missed you" email
- Staff download the Excel attendance register for the workshop

BEING BUILT NOW

- A summary report emailed to staff the morning after a workshop ends, with a reminder to finish the register
- An email to everyone booked when a workshop's date, time or venue changes
- Recording part payments, with the balance still owed shown on reminders
- One email to a school listing the teachers who used its code

2. The five added items

At the demo and in our meetings we came across a few things that need a bit more development. These are the five items we are adding. Two are already in use; three are still to be built.

1 "The dedicated auditor portal" — To be built

A separate read-only login for auditors. They can view and export the workshop money records and open receipts, but cannot change anything.

2 "The built-in approval methods for publishing a workshop and changing any details, including banking details" — To be built

A named approver approves a workshop before it goes public, or sends it back with a note. New bank details appear on EFT instructions, receipts and reminders only after a second super admin approves them. Approval for other detail changes, such as a date, venue or price, is new work within this item.

3 "The automated audit trail" — In use for money changes, being extended

Every money change (a payment recorded, a receipt, a price change, a payer's email corrected) is logged automatically with who did it and when, and Finance can read this money history on each booking. Today it covers money changes, the reason for deleting a workshop and opening check-in early. It is being extended to more of the system.

4 "The self-check-in feature that we created extra" — In use

At the venue (a QR code at the door) or online, attendees find themselves, confirm who they are and tap "I'm present". The staff register updates by itself.

5 "The on-site or on-premises invoicing system for walk-ins who need to be registered and paid" — To be built

A "Register walk-ins" screen for a tablet at the door: find or add the person, record the payment, mark them present and email the receipt, in one step.

Each added item reaches every province as soon as it is finished. Good to know: card payments are not live yet, so people pay by EFT today; and other provinces are not live on the module yet. Each province goes live once NAPTOSA National has paid for it and it has been set up.

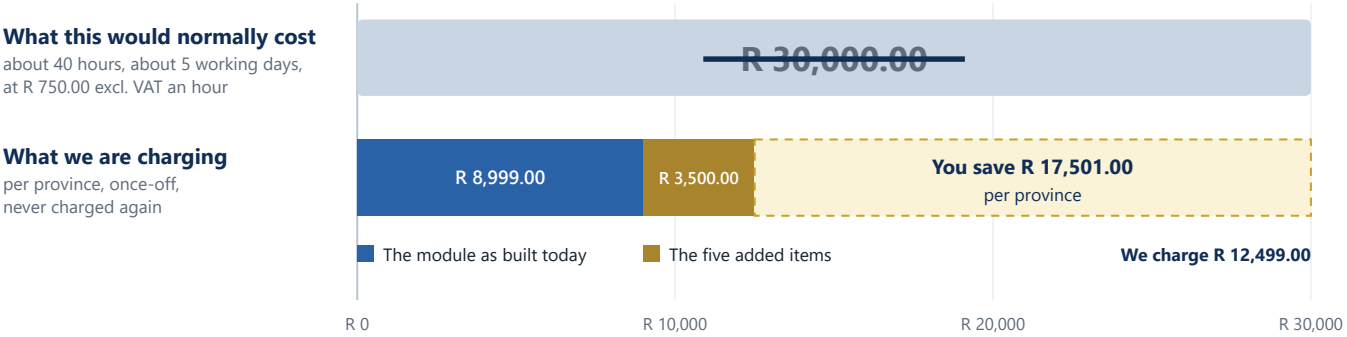

3. What this would normally cost, and what we are charging

We normally bill by the hour, at R 750.00 excl. VAT. Bringing the module to one province, with the five added items, takes about 40 hours, about 5 working days, which would come to about R 30,000.00 excl. VAT per province.

This time we have chosen differently. We are looking towards the future and building a sustainable relationship with NAPTOSA, so we have cut our standard development costs right down and gone all in on the future sustainability and growth of both our organisations. This is what we normally charge, and this is what we are charging now.

4. Training

Training is billed separately from the price per province, to NAPTOSA National.

Training, per person trained (excl. VAT)	R 2,500.00
VAT (15%)	R 375.00
PER PERSON (incl. VAT)	R 2,875.00

Any further training is billed by the hour at R 750.00 excl. VAT (R 862.50 incl. VAT), for example:

- when somebody new comes in, meaning a new person is taking over
- when somebody needs a refresher for all of the modules we go through

5. Support: a heads-up

We do offer service and support packages. We are not saying NAPTOSA needs one: in general we build systems that do not need a lot of support. There are cases, though, where work has to be done:

- The system has to change, or the logic of the system has to change.
- Additional features are asked for.
- Something outside the system changes that affects it, and we have to adjust on the fly.

> Billed by the hour, this can become very expensive. One change can take us 10 to 20 hours to build. That comes to R 7,500.00 to R 15,000.00 excl. VAT in that month, for that one change. We have found that a support package cuts out a lot of that cost compared with billing per hour. This is just a heads-up.

6. Timing

This is the expected timeframe. Work starts once NAPTOSA National's payment is received. The provinces are then set up one after another, about 5 working days each, in an order agreed with NAPTOSA National.

Once paid
work starts once NAPTOSA National's payment is received

About 5
working days per province, one after another, in an order agreed with National

As finished
each added item reaches every province on the module as it is finished

Holidays
if this is approved, LBTec will endeavour to work through the holidays

What we need for each province

- The names and email addresses of the staff who need access, and who should hold the Finance tick
- The bank account for EFT payments, exactly as it must appear on payment instructions
- The office contact details: address, phone number and email

7. Terms

7.1 Prices are per province and once-off, excluding VAT, which is added at 15%. They are never charged again.

7.2 The Western Cape is left out of this pricing: it already runs the workshop module and has paid for it (INV-NAPTOSA-WS-2026-01). These prices are per province NAPTOSA includes.

7.3 This proposal replaces Option 1 (Regional access) of LBTEC-NAPTOSA-WS-OPT-001, dated 29 September 2026.

7.4 Payment: NAPTOSA National pays in full upfront for the provinces it lists on the acceptance page, by EFT into either account below, using the invoice number as the payment reference. LBTec starts the work once the payment is received.

7.5 Training is billed separately, to NAPTOSA National: R 2,500.00 excluding VAT per person trained, and further training at R 750.00 excluding VAT an hour.

7.6 Changes and new features outside this proposal are billed by the hour at R 750.00 excluding VAT, unless a support package is agreed.

7.7 This proposal is valid until 28 November 2026. If NAPTOSA accepts by 28 November 2026, this price holds for go-lives in its next financial year.

7.8 Provinces added later: the same R 12,499.00 excluding VAT per province while this offer holds.

7.9 This proposal is not a tax invoice. NAPTOSA National accepts it once, on the last page.
